Steps in Human Resource Management

1. Human Resource Planning
2. Recruitment and Selection
3. Training and Development
4. Staff Appraisals
5. Rewarding Staff
6. Maintaining positive Industrial Relations

HR Planning

To prepare a HRP plan, the following steps must be followed:

1. Audit the present human resource levels
2. Forecast future human resource needs of the business
3. Monitor the level or labour turnover
4. Prepare a HR Plan

Step in Recruitment and Selection

1. Prepare a Job Description
2. Prepare a Person Specification
3. Advertise the Vacancy
4. Shortlist Applicants
5. Interview Applicants and Select Best Candidate
6. Check Reference
7. Make Offer to Candidate

Step 1 – Prepare a Job Description

recruitment and selection

1. This describes the vacancy that needs to be filled
2. It includes the following - Title, conditions, Duties, Responsibilities, Place of work and Supervision and assessment arrangements

Step 2 – Prepare a Person Specification

recruitment and selection

1. This describes the qualities required by the person who will fill the job description.
2. They include some of the following - Academic qualifications, Work experience, Level of physical fitness, Language skills

Step 3 – Advertise Vacancy

recruitment and selection

Internal

This is using internal communication - notice boards, e-mail, Company newsletters to advertise vacancy. This means promoting existing staff from within the business

External

This involves inviting applicants from outside the business. This can be done by Personal friends, Internet, Newspapers, Employment agencies.

Step 4 – Shortlist Applicants

recruitment and selection

1. A short list of the most promising candidates is then drawn up. Applicants with bad spelling, sloppy application and no cover letter will be rejected.
2. This list is usually 4-6 of the best applicants

Curriculum Vitae (CV)

recruitment and selection

Definition

This is a short document usually 2 pages summarising Personal details, Education, Qualification, Work Experience, Interest and hobbies, Referees

A Cover Letter

recruitment and selection

This is a short letter highlighting why you think you are suitable for the job and requesting an interview (It should be included with the CV)
1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
3. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.

1. The aim of an interview is to see if the applicant is suitable for the job.
2. Questions should be prepared that concentrates on the applicant's ability to perform the job, fit in and get along with existing staff.
3. Under the Employment Equality Act candidates can't be asked about their age or marital status.

1. This is a written or verbal recommendation from a former employer or person the know the applicant.
2. They are usually checked after the interview for accuracy and honest before making a job offer to the applicant.
3. If references are satisfactory a job offer will be made to the applicant.
4. Once accepted a contract of employment exists between each party and the employee is entitle to a copy of their basic terms and conditions of employment.
5. When going through the employment procedures all department should behave ethically and comply with legislation.
PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

It involves the following
1. Agreeing targets
2. Reviewing progress
3. Discussing outcomes
4. Identifying any training needs
5. Identifying employees for promotion
6. Improving communication

IMPORTANCE OF PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

1. Identify training needs of employees
2. Identify employees who are suitable for promotion
3. Help in deciding pay raises and bonuses
4. Improve communication

REWARDING STAFF

Financial
1. Flat Rate Pay
2. Time Rate Pay
3. Piece Rate Pay
4. Bonus Pay
5. Commissions
6. Benefit in Kind
7. Profit sharing options
8. Share ownership schemes

REWARDING STAFF

Non-Financial
1. Improve working conditions
2. Shorter working hours/longer holidays
3. Less stressful work
4. Safe working environment
5. Flexible working arrangements
6. Job enlargement - variety
7. Job enrichment (More responsibility)

FLAT RATE PAY

Definition
1. Employees receive an agreed set rate of pay per week/month based on a standard number of hours worked (€500).
2. There is no incentive to work harder or for longer.

TIME RATE PAY

Definition
1. Employees are paid a set amount for each hour they work. Overtime is usually paid at a higher rate.
2. There is no reward for improved efficiency and employees may be tempted to work slower so they will receive more payment.

PIECE RATE PAY

Definition
1. Employees are paid for each item produced that meets the desired quality standard.
2. It encourages maximum effort. Safety rules may be ignored if workers rush their work. Piece rate is not suitable for certain jobs (Teacher).

BONUS PAYMENTS

Definition
This gives employees a share of the profits resulting from their increased efforts.

COMMISSION

Definition
This is an extra payment based on a percentage of the value of sales achieved buy the sales person.
BENEFITS-IN-KIND
Definition
These are taxable non-cash payments to staff. It includes
1. Free or subsidised meals
2. Lab-top and phone

PROFIT-SHARING SCHEMES
Definition
This is when the firm shares part of their profits with the employees through the payments in addition wages through

SHARE OWNERSHIP SCHEMES
Definition
1. This is when the company offers free or low-price shares to their employees (Facebook).
2. It is an incentive for staff to keep costs down. It breaks down 'them and us' mentality between employees and management

HOW IS FINANCIAL REWARD DETERMINED?
1. Demand excess supply - highly skilled doctors are in smaller supply than bus drivers. So doctors earn more
2. Ability and skills - are required for some jobs
3. Long training periods - Vets and surgeons discourage people so keep the supply down
4. The risk, danger and responsibility
5. Trade unions

PROMOTING POSITIVE IR
1. Train managers to deal with human resources problems so they can resolve them quickly
2. Recruit staff with positive attitude and provide proper training and development
3. Communicate regularly and honestly with staff
4. Have a clear grievance procedure for staff and management to follow when conflict arises

GOOD IR IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE
1. Improves morale and motivation
2. Productivity is increases
3. Less risk of strikes
4. Reduction in labour turnover

REASONS WHY MANAGEMENT CARRIES OUT PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL.
1. To review the progress of employees to determine a reward.
2. Goals are set for future performance & targets can be agreed
3. Decide on suitable wages for employees or discuss a pay rise.
4. To provide employees with feedback.
5. To improve staff motivation.
6. To assess employee’s potential for promotion or a bonus

DISTINGUISH BETWEEN INDUCTION TRAINING AND STAFF DEVELOPMENT.
Induction training is necessary for all new employees demonstrates the requirements of every day technical operations/work skills in the business
Staff Development is taken with existing employees is focus is on career development and brings all employees to a higher level in terms of their general skills of leadership, and communication

DISCUSS THE ROLE OF THE PERSON SPECIFICATION.
Person Specification - Sets out the professional qualifications, experience and key characteristics and skills required by the successful candidate. - Allows the business to define the kind of person required
DISCUSS THE ROLE OF THE FOLLOWING JOB DESCRIPTION

A job description - relates directly to the nature of the position itself, rather than the person required to fit it. For example, the main duties, tasks and responsibilities involved in the job.

DISCUSS THE ROLE OF THE PANEL INTERVIEW

Panel Interview - A selection technique used to choose the candidate who closely matches the criteria in the person specification. The candidate is interviewed by a group of interviewers who meet the candidate in order to reduce the effect of a single interviewer’s personal bias.

BENEFITS OF INTERNAL RECRUITMENT

1. Morale improves in business as staff have greater variety and
2. Employee’s skills and attitude to work will be well known
3. Working knowledge of how firm operates - reduces need for induction training.
4. Reduces labour turnover as the opportunity for promotion.
5. Less disruption within the business/vacancy can be filled fast.

BENEFITS OF EXTERNAL RECRUITMENT

1. Best candidate for the job can be recruited
2. New employee brings fresh ideas/more open to change.
3. Wide ranging experience from previous employment
4. No existing relationships in the business - may reduce chance of conflict

THE BENEFITS OF PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL FOR EMPLOYEES

1. Rewards/Monetary and Non Monetary
2. Motivation/Job satisfaction:
3. Training and development
4. Feedback
5. Evaluate the performance
6. Promotional path/Recognition

OUTLINE THE STAGES IN A RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION PROCESS (1)

Internal recruitment
This is recruitment from within the business. The employee is familiar with the culture and work practices of the firm. Training and advertising costs are decreased. Motivation within the workplace improves as recognise the opportunities.

OUTLINE THE STAGES IN A RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION PROCESS (2)

External recruitment
This is recruitment for outside the business. The new employee may have skills and experience that may be required by the business but is not present among existing staff.

OUTLINE THE STAGES IN A RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION PROCESS (3)

A job description
This sets out the purpose of a job. It defines where the job is positioned in the organisation. It provides essential information to potential recruits and for recruiting the right kind of person to do the job.

OUTLINE THE STAGES IN A RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION PROCESS (4)

Job Interview
The job interview is used to determine whether the candidate and the job complement each other. It is a process in which a potential employee is evaluated by an employer. The process attempts to determine the candidate’s ability to do the job. Interviews generally take the form of interview panels.
EXPLAIN WHAT IS MEANT THE TERM

Performance Appraisal
Performance appraisal is reviewing the performance of the employees. It is carried out by the HR Manager to evaluate the employee. The HR Manager forms a judgement on a person’s work by reviewing the quality of the work, the progress the person has made. An interview/discussion may take place between the employee and HRM to discuss goal setting targets.

EXPLAIN THE FUNCTIONS

Performance Appraisal
This is the process of reviewing the performance of an employee. Performance appraisal of staff in an organisation requires the Human Resource Manager to form a judgement on a person’s work by reviewing the quality of the work, the progress the person has made or the capability of the person.

Employer and Employee Relationships
The quality of the relationship that exists between employers and employees determines the quality of industrial relations between the parties. The implementation of the various health, safety and welfare regulations in the workplace together with interest in, and support for, the social and recreational needs of employees,

TWO BENEFITS OF THE UNDERLINED

Performance Appraisal
1. Determines suitable pay levels.
2. Selecting suitable candidates for promotion
3. Monitors & controls recruitment, selection, training & development
4. Feedback is received on how people are doing their work
5. Weak areas are identified so that performance can be improved

Training & Development
1. Better quality service to customers less in fewer complaints.
2. Improved quality of production.
3. Staff is better cared for and well motivated
4. Lower labour turnover rates due to high staff morale
5. Flexible and adaptable labour force allowing for changes to take place

Employer and Employee Relationships
1. Employees are motivated to work to the best of their ability.
2. All personnel are working towards the same goal.
3. Flexibility is increased.
4. Lines of communication are open and clear.

OUTLINE THE FUNCTION OF THE HR

1. Manpower planning
2. Recruitment and selection
3. Training and Development
4. Performance and appraisal
5. Industrial Relations